

Charity Events

Whenever I am given an opportunity to present my show at a charity event or function I jump right on it, especially if the charity involves kids. And I do it for free. Yes, you read that right, I do it for free. It just does not seem right for me to charge a fee when working for a charitable organization. So I don't.

As long as there isn't any significant travel involved (over one hour driving time, one way) my show is free. And I don't water it down to give you the economy version. It is the same show that others have paid up to $500 for me to present.

Call me at 913.461.3435 or send me an email (john@johnweavermagic.com) with all the details and I will check my schedule for availability.
